

Evergreen Giant Liriope

Low maintenance,
drought tolerant, deer resistant, good for slopes and is not invasive!

Liriope muscari 'Evergreen Giant'

- Use: Also known as Lilyturf. An attractive, tufted evergreen perennial groundcover with stiff, grasslike foliage. Superior edging or border for partially shaded areas. Excellent for edging and ground covers. The refined leaf texture and outstanding quantity of beautiful flower spikes will convert the most reluctant landscapers into Liriope fans. Does not creep, and will stay in one clump.
- Exposure/Soil: Full sun– shade. Prefers moist, but not wet soils. Tolerates drier conditions when established.
- Growth: has stiff-textured leaf blades and white flower spikes. Mature height is 18 to 24 inches tall. When plantings space 18-24" apart at least for fast display.
- Hardiness: 5-9, Perennial
- Foliage: Evergreen. The dark green grassy foliage.
- Flower: White to pale lavender flower spikes appear in summer and last well into autumn.
